A: The Bolsheviks were led by Vladimir Lenin. Under his leadership Bolsheviks were able to win the confidence of the Soviets because they took up the demand for immediate and unconditional peace nationalisation of all land and its redistribution to the peasants and control over prices and nationalisation of all factories and banks. U.S.S.R. was set up 1924 by the Soviet government of Russia. After the death of Lenin in 1924, Stalin emerged to the leader of the communist party.

He introduced Five Year Plans in 1928. This pursued the twin policy of rapid industrialisation and collectivization of agriculture.

Cheap public health care was provided.

The USSR achieved full employment during his region. It also managed to universalise Literacy and primary education.

Thus USSR prided itself in escaping the impact of great depression due to their policies.
